"THANKS"

Miss Van Vonderen:

We want to say "thanks a lot" for the help and guidance you gave us as the advisor of the "Mack."

You were willing to help us with the problems and when things seemed to go wrong and we became discouraged, you gave us one of your "pep talks."

Besides being advisor, you were also "Chief Cook" for the work sessions that we had after school. Mighty good suppers we had, too!

So, here's a sincere "Thanks, from all of us."

The Mack Staff

To Mr. Miller, who has been a fine class sponsor and guiding light to the class of 1954. Through his guidance and organization during the last four years, the Seniors can safely say that those years have been successful ones. Mr. Miller's help and advice was of great value in the solving of the many class problems. Without him the class could not have done the many things it has done well. So here is the most sincere and warmest thanks to a wonderful teacher from the class he has so skillfully sponsored.

CLASS HISTORY

Can anyone remember the fall of 1950? That was the year that the largest Freshman class entered the walls of H.C.H.S., but who feels big when they are only "freshies"? To start things off right, they elected as officers: Bill Moss, President; Betty Mallicoat, Vice-President; Margaret Pearson, Secretary-Treasurer. Mr. Miller was appointed their sponsor. Right away the thought of the "Senior Trip" loomed into the picture. They got busy and sponsored a dance and concession. This, plus the class dues, gave them a good start toward the "Trip."

Back again for year number two, the class decided to be different. Instead of electing officers, they elected a committee of ten, consisting of Mary Kocher, Chairman; Del Hasse, Marlene Carter, Margaret Pearson, Betty Mallicoat, Alan Sund, John Stogsdill, Dave Bottimer, Karlene Porter, and Don Rigotti.

Then they were upper classmen! The busy, busy Junior year got underway with the election of the officers. They were: John Stogsdill, President; Alan Sund, Vice-President; Pat Baldwin, Secretary; and Margaret Pearson, Treasurer. On November 14, 1952 the class presented their Junior Play, "Paradise Lost." During the Christmas season they undertook the project of selling Christmas trees. Then on May 9, 1953 they held their Jr.-Sr. Prom, with a theme of "Apple Blossom Time." They were one of the rare classes to make a fair profit. On May 19, 1953 these busy Juniors held the Jr.-Sr. Banquet at the Log Lodge in Rockford.

Now THE year! 1954! The year that all underclassmen look forward to, the Senior year. Elected as officers were: Alan Sund, President; Carol Brown, Vice-President; Marie Morgan, Secretary; and Margaret Pearson, Treasurer. This turned out to be the busiest of all. Homecoming, noon lunches, selling Christmas cards, senior play, senior trip, and then the most exciting part of the whole year . . . GRADUATION!

JUNIORS

B. Jones, F. Fuller, P. Farrell, R. Jacobson, M. Kiser, D. Larson.

The class of '55 began their freshmen year with an enrollment of 81. Miss Englund was appointed as their advisor.

They began their sophomore year with fewer class members, but with more experience and enthusiasm. Mary Hopkins was elected President; Richard Brady, Vice-president; Linda Carter, Secretary; and Don Lowe, Treasurer. Their first project to earn money for the senior trip was selling sweat shirts.

Upperclassmen!, entering H.C.H.S. for their third year, they were confronted with putting on a class play, the Jr.-Sr. Prom and the Jr.-Sr. Banquet. Their play, "Love Rides The Rails" was considered the most successful junior play ever put on at Hononegah.

Officers for the year were: Merl Kiser, President; Mary Hopkins, Vice-president; Pat Kelsey, Secretary, and Bruce Wilcox, Treasurer.

Only the classified juniors are pictured. Absent: J. Mackley.

KELSEY'S COMMENTS

With only one regular back from the 1952-53 squad, the basketball outlook was very dark indeed at the beginning of the season. As the season progressed the Indians improved and finally achieved a real upset in beating Marengo on their own floor after having been soundly thrashed twice before by Marengo. Another surprise was the Indian victory over the Durand Bulldogs after having been scalped by almost 40 points in a previous meeting. The team lacked experience and skill but was long on spirit and fight. With every team in the Conference stronger this year, with the exception of Marengo, it was a pleasant surprise that the team kept trying to the best of their ability, even though they were beaten by superior forces time after time. This ability to keep fighting back under terrific handicaps, made this team a champion in my eyes, even though it does not look that way in the won and lost columns. With the consolidation of the grade school districts in the Hononegah District and the building of grade school gyms the basketball situation is bound to improve at Hononegah, though it will take time.

"APPLE BLOSSOM TIME"

Our Junior-Senior Prom, held on May 9, 1953, was an entertaining experience for all who attended. They danced to the music of Lewis Dalvit's Orchestra. The gym was ornately decorated in pastel shades with cascades of paper apple blossoms strewn throughout, carrying out their theme of "Apple Blossom Time." The highlight of the evening was the crowning, with David Bottimer and Isabel Hogan reigning as king and queen. Isabel's court members were Pat Baldwin, Betty Mallicoat, Margaret Pearson, and Margie Morgan. David's attendants were Del Hasse, Don Rigotti, Alan Sund and Lyle Hopp.

BAND . . .

With the band performing for all high school football and basketball games, Christmas and spring concerts, a trip to DeKalb, the annual state and district competition, plus numerous other activities, they truly reached a new high in activities.

They also completed a successful summer schedule consisting of six free public concerts.

"The band," says Mr. Arnold, "has increased in size and improved in musical ability."

The purposes in teaching instrumental music are many; the principle ones being to provide wholesome recreation, to develop the co-ordination of mental and physical resources, to train the students into habits of concentration, and to provide a healthy and enjoyable emotional outlet.

Truly the embodiment of our seven cardinal principles of curriculum appear in a public school music organization.

THE INDIAN

The Indian, published in the Rockton Herald, has made a big step in 1953-54.

Under the careful guidance of Miss Van Vonderen and editorship of John Stogsdill, the members have set up a platform for the Indian. The purpose of the platform is to help "present news impartially and accurately," and to "give increased attention to spring sports, including better planned pep assemblies and better participation in all minor sports."

F. Fuller, S. Sprightly, P. Newell, B. Holmes, P. Kelsey, P. Aylesworth, J. Molander.

MACK STAFF

Helen Folyer, Ass. Ed.; Pat Baldwin, Editor; Miss Van Vonderen, Advisor; Del Hasse, Bus. Mgr.

The purpose of the Mack Staff is to present a record of the school events, and this is what they have worked hard to do.

Aside from scheduling, arranging and pasting pictures, ad-getting, name checking, subscription taking, lots of planning, a few days of headaches and rushing . . . there's really nothing to it, and it has even been fun at times.

They would like to thank Miss Van Vonderen for all the advice and help she gave them for the yearbook, and also say thanks to the subscribers, and the advertisers, who helped finance the book.

They sincerely hope the students like the '54 Mack, and wish the best of luck to the Staff of '55.

"LOVE RIDES THE RAILS"

The Junior Play this year was a three act comedy, "Love Rides the Rails," by Moreland Carey. It was one of the old time melodramas with a hero and a heroine, a villain and accomplice. The leading characters were F. Fuller, S. Sprightly, R. Jacobson, M. Kiser, and C. Ellis. The juniors did a wonderful job of producing the play with the expert guidance of Mrs. Grimshaw, their director, and Sandra Whisman, student director.

L. Case, R. Sager, D. Lowe, A. Gleasman, D. Dobson.

B. Olmsted, M. Popanz, E. Mellen, V. Aylesworth, B. Holmes.
